Christopher Adams

A British presenter who has lived abroad twice: Madrid, then Rome. Presents in English and Spanish, gets by in French. RADA and Lecoq trained. Founded a travel business that takes British people abroad, and Spanish national media keep picking up his pieces on Spanish life.

WHAT HE PRESENTS

Living abroad and what it really costs. Relocation, the paperwork and the surprises. Travel with a point of view. To camera and on location, walk-and-talk or sit-down, in English or Spanish. Shoots, edits and publishes his own short-form video, so he arrives with a producer's sense of the story.

PRESENTING AND HOSTING

Hosts live events for a living: quiz nights, team building and festival stages through Get Social, the company he runs; residential weekends through No Sex Gay Weekend, the travel business he founded. Self-shot pieces about Spanish life picked up repeatedly by Spanish national press and run by the Daily Mail. A run of podcast interviews about the travel business.
